JAMES HURD WRITES

Btry. D. 137 F. A. Camp Gruber, Okla.

Dear Editor:

Would like to say a word or so to the people back home. We as a whole are doing fine with exception of some real hard work, but we were used to that before we came to the Army.

We are having some cool weather here. The weather doesn't seem to make up its mind. It snows a while and then rains. We are all looking forward to the first real big snow.

We have received around 200 new men in the Battalion the past three weeks. Most of them are from Arkansas and Maryland. We are very proud to receive them. They are all very fine men, we think. The men training the new men are as follows: Sgt. B. M. Fuller, Cpl. T. R. Dorsey, Cpl. Ennis and Cpl. Boswell and Cpl. Chas. Talbot, and myself. We all enjoy working with them and do the best we can to get them ready to serve their country. They are all very anxious to see actual war service. We hope they all receive plenty of training and do a great part in defending our country.

We all want to say a word for Cpl. Eugene W. Grimes, a boy from our home town. We all sympathize with him in the loss of his mother, for we realize when you lose your mother, you have lost your best friend. May God bless this soldier and the family.

Sgt. James R. Hurd.

JOHN PAUL LEE

On April 14, 1925, Elba, Alabama, increased its population by one when little John Paul Lee came screaming into the world. This bald-headed infant fooled his disappointed parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lee, and grew into a nice looking young man. A good six feet with black hair and big eyes, he will be a nice catch for some girl. However, he insists on being a woman. He says he'll probably be a blonde with blue eyes, five feet, six inches tall, weighing 110 pounds, and will be a great help in the home. This ambitious fellow hopes to enter Auburn in June, but says he'll probably be a member of the new uniform team. John wants to play basketball with the Auburn Tigers. He feels quite sure they will find place for him because he's been a success on the great team of C. C. Lee. Besides basketball, he is going to take a pre-med course.

John came to our school from Elba in 1940. He has taken a great part in school activities. Last year he proved to have great ability in basketball and dramatics. He was a member of the junior play both this year and last. He is serving as captain of the Patrol Club. His favorite subjects are chemistry and geometry. The Crescent City High School will always welcome members like John Lee.—Crescent City (Fla.) News.

THE SECRET OF HAPPINESS

By Ruth Taylor
Many centuries ago, Pericles, the great Athenian, said, "The secret of happiness is freedom; and the secret of freedom is a brave heart."

We realize this truth anew today as we face the changes wrought by total war. We know that every threat to freedom is a threat to our personal and national happiness, and because of this we gladly lay aside for the moment our liberties and place restrictions on our freedom for the sake of our strong defense and preservation of those liberties and of that freedom.

Happiness is the result of free choice; of the ability to give freely and not upon the demand and according to the will or whim of some self imposed overlord. Happiness is found in the freedom to live according to the laws of right and justice; to work in a spirit of friendly intercourse with our fellow men, unhampered and unhindered by prejudice against anyone because of race or creed or color or class. Happiness rests in freedom to worship as our conscience dictates; to pray to God as a free man, at peace with one's own soul, and to see to it that our neighbor has the same privilege. There could be no happiness for a free born and free spirited American under totalitarian rule.

Freedom is the absence of fear — of that corroding dread of impending evil, that cancerous mistral of one's closest comrades which is the deadliest weapon of the dictators. Freedom is the security given by peace of mind in a world in which men are motivated by respect for others' rights and by a sense of their own obligations to society. Freedom is the knowledge that success or failure depends upon one's own self and the way in which one's talents and abilities are used. Freedom is the way of life for men who are not afraid of living.

A brave heart is one that has courage and faith. It has courage to go ahead; to believe in the integrity of others; to combat evil wherever it exists; to fight loyally and wholeheartedly to the bitter end; to face the unknown because of the guiding light of purpose, the hope of a finer goal; to have faith—faith in one's self, in one's fellow men, in the God of one's belief—and in the future whether it be a future in this world or beyond our earthly ken.

"The secret of happiness is freedom; and the secret of freedom is a brave heart."

Sales of shell eggs purchased solely for hatching purposes are exempted from price control, announces the Office of Price Administration. This exemption is made because it has become evident that eggs of the type necessary for hatching purposes cannot be obtained in sufficient quantities unless removed from all price curbs.

MILITARY "SECRETS" NOT TO BE PUBLISHED

If you know what ship a sailor is on, or what company or regiment a soldier is with overseas, then you know a military "secret," the Office of Censorship in Washington warns.

This secret ought not to be published. This is why: A general needs to know the strength of his opponent; how many men, guns, ships, planes there are in each theatre of war.

The Nazis and Japs want to know these things about our forces. Their agents assemble the information like this: from one paper, an item reveals the 600th Infantry is in Australia; another, that the U.S.S. Wisconsin is in the Mediterranean; another, that the 206th Tank Battalion is in North Africa.

Add hundreds of these bits of information together, and our enemies have a too-accurate estimate of American military strength. These are OUR soldiers—Americans, all—who we endeavor to keep secret. But in articles about soldiers and sailors and in the addresses for them, don't give away their fighting units.

FAVORABLE OUTLOOK FOR FEED IN 1943

Auburn, Ala.—The feed outlook for 1943 production of meats, milk, eggs and poultry is indicated as favorable to livestock feeders. Large supplies of feed grains and hay were brought forward into the New Year from the fall of 1942.

Economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture report feed grain supplies for 1943, which were available in the fall, are 12 percent larger than a year ago, hay supplies are 9 percent larger, and supplies per animal unit on farms are somewhat larger for both grain and hay. The economists also expect prices of feeds in relation to prices of livestock and livestock products will prove favorable to livestock production in the first half of this year.

LESSON TEXT—John 8:12.

LESSON TEXT—John 8:12.

JESUS THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

Hope of the hopeless, help of the helpless—who would that be, but Jesus? Coming to Jerusalem for the feast He did not seek out the homes of the mighty, the places of learning and culture, but betook Himself to the Pool of Bethesda, where there "lay a multitude of them that were sick, blind, lame, withered." Why did He go to such a place? Because He always had compassion upon those in need.

In this multitude He saw at once the neediest man of all—one without friends or loved ones to care for him, despondent and disheartened. What happened that day may well encourage the heart of every sad, lonely, and discouraged one.

We see three things here.

I. Hopeless infirmity (vv. 1-7). How weak and helpless is humanity. Oh, yes, we seem to be strong, capable, fearless, but only until we meet some great elemental problem. Then we see that we are in fact a great multitude of impotent folk. The gently falling sickness of death—who can stay their hand? We need the steady and powerful grip of God upon our lives if we are to go through such experiences. Not only was this man suffering but his long years of suffering had made him so accustomed to weakness that he had reached a state of despair.

Such an attitude invites defeat. It may be the only recourse of the weak, but with Jesus standing by to help, there is good reason for assurance of faith in the darkest hour.

In the face of this need—yes, even in the light of Jesus' provision for the need—the leaders of the Jews could only criticize.

II. Heartless Religion (vv. 10-13, 15-19).

Jesus had done for the man what the Jews had not been able to do; in fact, one wonders whether they had so much as lifted a finger to help this poor sufferer. But now that he was able to walk, they were greatly concerned about his Sabbath day restriction against any work.

Instead of shouting for joy that this man was able to carry not only himself but his bed, they became zealous about maintaining the letter of their law.

Are there not those in our day who would be greatly disturbed if the deathlike quiet and dignity of their church services were to be broken by the cry of a new born babe in Christ? Would a revival be welcomed in the great churches of America which have lost the favor of Christ and the power of the gospel? We think not.

The man who had been healed answered well (v. 11). He did not know who Jesus was, but he knew that if He had authority to heal, He also had the right to tell him to carry his bed. When we meet Jesus we will be healed of our infirmities and, like this man, be delivered from the fear of cold ecclesiasticism.

But let us turn to the heart of our lesson, which is the act of Jesus in giving him life.

III. Healing of Body and Soul (vv. 8, 9, 14).

The body of this man was miraculously healed. There was no partial improvement, no long drawn out convalescence and regaining of strength. In fact, he was told to do something which called for the full vigor of a healthy body, to show that he was healed.

Even so when we are healed from sin it is not to a half-dead existence, but to the full vigor of spiritual life. We are to arise and walk in the power and grace which Christ has brought into our lives.

Note that the miracle performed here was for the glory of God. The miracles of God are not mere marvels or wonders. They are not for the advancement of the cause of any man or for personal glory. They are the mighty signs of an omnipotent God wrought for the good of men, for their spiritual enlightenment, and as a testimony to the one true God.

So in this case Jesus found the man in the temple to admonish him to continue steadfast in the spiritual liberty which had come to him "lest a worse thing befall" him.

Evidently this man's infirmity had been caused by sin, and even though he had suffered those 38 long years the tendency toward sin was still alive in his heart. Sin dies hard. How often have we not seen those who have cried to God out of their affliction, promising all sorts of spiritual changes if God will deliver them. When He does, they go right back to their old ways. The one who does that may well be looking for the "worse thing" which will surely befall him.

MR. TEEL CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

On Sunday, January 3rd, a large crowd gathered at the home of Mr. Dan Teel to celebrate his eightieth birthday. The early morning was spent as an informal get-together, at which the honoree was the recipient of many gifts. After this singing in the Sacred Harp was enjoyed for the day.

Chairman J. P. Wise, Sr., sang three songs. Lessons by W. D. Wise, R. H. Moore, Leamon Teel, A. A. Parker, Arthur Holmes, Glenmie Grimes, H. H. Gatlin, B. Horn, Dr. N. M. Ham, D. S. Teel. A memorial lesson was arranged for Mr. John Leonard and Mrs. John Cook in the morning. In the afternoon a lesson for the late Elder Jack Mitchell.

At the noon hour a delicious dinner was served in the oak grove. An attractive birthday cake contained the table representing their eighty years happily and usefully spent by Mr. Teel.

A recent AAA ruling provides that farmers will not be penalized in 1943 for planting less than 90 percent of their cotton allotment. A telegram from Washington says: "In order to place full emphasis on growing war crops, 1943 ACP Bulletin being amended to eliminate deductions for failure to plant 90 percent of special crop allotment." Farmers will be penalized $15 per acre for planting less than 90 percent of their quota of war crops—peanuts and soybeans.

War Stamp Sales Over Half Billion Dollars, Album Drive Opens

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The new drive to sell War Bonds and War Stamps to fill the Treasury's "A Half-Billion Dollar Album" is under way.

The importance of the drive is seen in the fact that a War Bond potential of nearly two billion dollars hangs in the balance.

Every War Stamp album, converted into a People's Bond, for which the purchaser pays $18.75 and which matures to $25.00 value when held for 10 years, adds its force to the war effort.

Stamp sales have risen from less than three million dollars per month when they were first introduced to the public to an average of more than fifty million dollars per month at the present time.

The Treasury's slogan, "A Half-Billion Dollars Album," is a half-billion dollars album.

Appealing Margaret C. Russell of the War Savings Staff takes up the new Treasury poster which will be seen from coast to coast. It pleads for additional War Stamps to fill the album.

Half-Effort Will Not Defeat Japan

By JOSEPH C. GREW
United States Ambassador to Japan until the outbreak of war, and author of "Report From Tokyo."

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In describing one of the big air battles over Guadalcanal a recent newspaper account tells of an American flyer who parachuted from his crippled plane to the waters of Lunga Bay. The Navy craft which picked him up next went to the rescue of a Japanese pilot seen struggling in the water nearby. As the rescue boat reached the Japanese flyer he suddenly pulled out his revolver, aimed it at the drencher, and pulled himself aboard the American craft a prisoner.

The truth as I know it from direct observation is this: Nothing less than the exertion of our maximum capacities, individually and collectively, in a war of defense will bring our beloved country safely to the longed-for haven of victorious peace.

THE SECRET OF HAPPINESS

By Ruth Taylor

Many centuries ago, Porphyry, the great Athenian, said, "The secret of happiness is freedom; and the secret of freedom is a brave heart."

We realize this truth anew today as we face the changes wrought by total war. We know that every threat to freedom is a threat to our personal and national happiness, and because of this we gladly lay aside for the moment our liberties and place restrictions on our freedom for the sake of a strong defense and preservation of those liberties and of that freedom.

Happiness is the result of free choice: of the ability to give freely and not upon the demand and according to the will or whim of some self imposed overlord. Happiness is found in the freedom to live according to the laws of right and justice; to work in a spirit of friendly intercourse with our fellow men, unhampered and unhindered by prejudice against anyone because of race or creed or color or class. Happiness rests in freedom to worship as our conscience dictates; to pray to God as a free man, at peace with one's own soul, and to see to it that our neighbor has the same privilege. There could be no happiness for a free born and free spirited American under totalitarian rule.

Freedom is the absence of fear—of that corroding dread of impending evil that cancerous mistrust of one's closest comrades which is the deadliest weapon of the dictators. Freedom is the security given by peace of mind in a world in which men are motivated by respect for others' rights and by a sense of their own obligations to society. Freedom is the knowledge that success or failure depends upon one's own self and the way in which one's talents and abilities are utilized.
Freedom is the way of life for men who are not afraid of living.

A brave heart is one that has courage and faith. It has courage to go ahead; to believe in the integrity of others; to combat evil where-ever it exists; to fight logically and wholeheartedly to the bitter end; to face the unknown because of the guiding light of purpose and the hope of a finer goal. It has faith—faith in one's self, in one's fellow men, in the God of one's belief, and in the future whether it be a future in this world or beyond our earthly ken.

"The secret of happiness is freedom; and the secret of freedom is a brave heart."

JESUS THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

LESSON TEXT—John 1:2-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Will there be made whole?—John 5:8.

Hope of the hopeless, help of the helpless—who would that be, but Jesus? Coming to Jerusalem for the feast He did not seek out the homes of the mighty, the places of learning and culture, but betook Himself to the Pool of Bethesda, where there lay a multitude of them that were blind, halt, withered. Why did He go to such a place? Because He knew that compassion upon those in need.

In this multitude He saw at once the neediest men of all—one without friends or loved ones to care for him, despondent and disheartened.
What chance had that man to be encouraged by the heart of every lonely, and discouraged one?

We see three things here.
I. Hopeless Infidelity (vv. 1-7).
How weak and helpless is humanity. Oh, yes, we seem to be strong, capable, fearless, but only until we meet some great elemental power.
Then we see that we are indeed a great multitude of the hap-pless. The gently falling snow stopped the undefeated Napoleon.
The silent fog can paralyze a nation. Sickness, death—who can stay their hand? We need the steady and powerful grip of God upon our lives if we are to go through such experiences. Not only was this man ill and weak, but his long years suffering had made him so accustomed to weakness that he had reached a state of helplessness.

Such an attitude invites defeat. It may be the only recourse of the man of the world, but was Jesus standing by to help, there is good reason for assurance of faith in the darkest hour.

In the face of this need—yes, even in the light of Jesus' provision for that need—the leaders of the Jews could only criticize.

II. Heartless Religion (vv. 10-13, 15-16).

Jesus had done for the man what the Jews had not been able to do; in fact, one wonders whether they had so much as lifted a finger to help this poor sufferer. But now that he was able to walk, they were greatly concerned. The cause of their Sabbath day restriction against any work.

Instead of shouting for joy that this man was able to carry not only himself but his bed, they became zealous about maintaining the letter of their law.
Are there not those in our day who would be greatly disturbed if the deathlike quiet and dignity of their church services were to be broken by the cry of a new born babe in Christ? Would a revival be welcomed in the great churches of America which have lost the favor of Christ and the power of the gospel? We think not.

The man who had been healed answered (v. 11). He did not know who Jesus was, but he knew that if He had authority to heal, He also had the right to tell him to carry his bed. When he met Jesus carrying his bed, he was healed of his infirmities, and like this man, he was healed from the fear of ecclesiasticism.

But let us turn to the heart of our lesson, which is the act of Jesus in giving him.

III. Healing of Body and Soul (vv.
8, 9, 14).

The body of this man was miraculously healed. There was no partial improvement, no long drawn out convalescence and regaining of strength. In fact, he was told to do something which called for the full vigor of a healthy body, to show that he was healed.

Even so when we are healed from sin it is not to a half-dead existence, but to the full vigor of spiritual life.
We are to arise and walk in the power and grace which Christ has brought into our lives.

Note that the miracle performed here was for the glory of God. The miracles of God are not mere mar-vels or wonders. They are not for the advancement of the cause of man or for personal glory. They are the mighty signs of an omnipotent God wrought for the good of men, for their spiritual enlightenment, and as a testimony to the one true God.

So in this case Jesus found the man in the temple to admonish him to continue steadfast in the spiritual liberty which had come to him "lest a worse thing befall" him.
Evidently this man's infirmity had been caused by sin, and even though he had suffered those 38 long years the tendency toward sin was still alive in his heart. Sin dies hard.
How often have we not seen those who have cried to God out of their affliction, promising all sorts of spiritual changes if God will deliver them. When He does, they go right back to their old ways. The one who does this may well be looking for the "worse thing" which will surely befall him.

MR. TEEL CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

On Sunday, January 3rd, a large crowd gathered at the home of Mr. Dan Teel in the Brooklyn community to celebrate his eightieth birthday. The early morning was spent as an informal get-together, at which the honoree was the recipient of many gifts. After this singing in the Sacred Harp was enjoyed for the day.

Chairman J. P. Wise, Sr., sang three songs. Lessons by W. D. Wise, R. H. Moore, Leonard Teel, A. A. Parker,
Arthur Holmes, Clemmie
Grimes, H. H. Gatlin, B.
Horn, Dr. N. M. Ham, D. S.
Teel. A memorial lesson was arranged for Mr. John Leonard and Mrs. John Coon in the morning. In the afternoon a lesson for the late Elder Jack Mitchell.

At the noon hour a delicious dinner was served in the dining room. An attractive birthday cake centered the table representing the eighty years happily and usefully spent by Mr. Teel.

A recent AACP ruling provides that farmers will not be penalized in 1943 for planting less than 90 per cent of their cotton allotment. A telegram from Washington says: "In order to place full emphasis on growing war crops, 1943 ACP Bulletin being amended to eliminate deductions for failure to plant 90 per cent of special crop allotment." Farmers will be penalized $15 per acre for planting less than 90 per cent of their quota of war crops—peanuts and soy-beans.

Joseph C. Grew Warns

Half-Effort Will Not Defeat Japan

By JOSEPH C. GREW

United States Ambassador to Japan until the outbreak of war, and author of "The Road to Tokyo"

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In describing one of the big air battles over Guadalcanal a recent newspaper account tells of an American flyer who parachuted from his crippled plane to the waters of Lung Bay. The Navy craft which picked him up next went to the rescue of a Japanese pilot seen struggling in the water nearby. As the rescue boat reached the Japanese flyer he suddenly pulled out his revolver, aimed it at the drenched American pilot and pulled the trigger. The cartridge failed to explode.
Then the Japanese officer turned the gun on himself with suicidal intent.
Again he pulled the trigger and again his revolver failed him. At this point an American sailor knocked him out with a boat hook and pulled him aboard the American craft a prisoner.

Almost daily one reads eye-witness stories such as this one, and it then clearly demonstrates that war is our enemy in the Pacific cannot end in compromise.

For ten years I lived in Japan.
The truth as I know it from close observation is this: Nothing less than the extinction of our maximum capacities, individually and collectively, in a war of offense will bring our war with Japan to a halt. The longed-for haven of victorious peace, the Japanese are pawns of a senseless but mighty militarism.

This is a total war, the only answer to which is a total American victory. It is a war in which half measures of any kind mean increasing waste of material, energy and human life. In this sense a half-hearted War Savings Stamp album is symbolic of a half effort. There are at least 100 million potential savings stamps in circulation. These unused, like a 100 million, in a mental attitude of defeat, are a menace to the nation's war effort. It is a waste of money and a waste of time. It is a waste of the nation's resources. It is a waste of the nation's strength. It is a waste of the nation's honor. It is a waste of the nation's future. It is a waste of the nation's soul. It is a waste of the

JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB MET THURSDAY—

The January meeting of the Junior Music Club was held in the home of Miss Katherine Mullins with Miss Carolyn English assisting hostess on Thursday afternoon at 8:30.

The home was attractively decorated with bowls of white japonicas and other cut flowers of the season combined with potted plants.

Miss Martha Edmondson, president, presided and conducted a short business session at which time roll call and minutes of last meeting were read and reports of officers were made.

The program was on the theme of "Church Music," and consisted of the following numbers: Talk on Psaumes, "Father of Church Music," by Claude Fleming; Piano Solo, Variation on "Nearer My God To Thee," by Jo Ann Clark; Talk, "What the Early Church Did For Music," by Martha Edmondson; Piano Solo, "In the Style of Gluck," by Katherine Mullins; Talk, "What Early England Did For Music," by Martha Ann Dixon; and the following group of hymns sung by the club: "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" (Martin Luther); "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" from "The Messiah" (Handel); "Old Hundred"—first hymn sung by the pilgrims.

Temping refreshments of hot chocolate, sandwiches and cakes were served at the conclusion of the program to the following members: Misses Claudine Fleming, Peggy Blue, Martha Edmondson, Betty Ann Faris, Margaret Britt, Jo Ann Clark, Nina English, Jo Lovell, Martha Ann Dixon, Katherine Mullins, Carolyn English, and Mrs. Arden Pratt.

Fresh fruits and vegetables, and food canned and processed for home use will not be included in the rationing program. This within its scope should encourage both rural and urban residents of Alabama to plant victory gardens and produce their food at home this year.

Beginning January 21, the bakers are forbidden to sell to the merchants any sliced bread. They are also forbidden to replace any old or stale bread with fresh bread.

In view of the above conditions and the fact that there has always been a very small margin of profit on bread, we are asking our customers to co-operate with us.

We, the undersigned merchants, cannot replace old or stale bread with fresh bread.

Coast Guard Enlists

Mounted Beach Patrol

WASHINGTON—The coast guard is going to have its cavalry. It announced today that it is seeking horsemen living near Atlantic and Gulf coast for a newly organized mounted beach patrol. Volunteers will be enrolled in the temporary reserve, instructed in their duties and provided with arms and uniforms.

The coast guard also is asking horse owners who can't join the patrol to make their mounts available to riders who can.

Dancer Exempted From War Duty by British

EDINBURGH—On condition that he continue his present occupation, Raymond O'Farrell, conscientious objector, today remains exempt from war service.

The Edinburgh Tribunal granted exemption when O'Farrell pleaded: "I feel that in my own profession I am doing an immense amount of good by keeping people alive to beauty in these times."

His job?—bullet dancer.

Terror Stalks Nazi-Held Land

Brutality, Starvation and Sudden Death Is Dread Picture of Ukraine.

GENEVA—The conquered area of the rich Russian Ukraine, which Adolf Hitler planned to make a "second American Midwest," today is a scorched land, ridden by terror, starvation and sudden death. That is the picture that can be drawn from reports flowing into Switzerland.

The Ukrainians have learned that the collaboration Hitler prated about means brutality, mass executions and ruthless domination like something from the dark ages.

There always has been a strong movement in that conquered territory for the Ukrainians for Ukrainian independence. These measures were highly unpopular. Some Ukrainian nationalists were sent to Siberia for their part in the anti-Nazi movement.

Hitler Makes Pledges.

Before Germany and Russia went to war a year ago, Hitler had made marked progress in fostering the strong Ukrainian independence movement. Nazi agents promised "liberation" from Stalin's oppression and extermination of the Ukrainians.

The Nazi army quickly dropped its talk of liberation and collaboration. Ukrainians were told to drop their arms and go back to work under penalty of death if they refused. The Ukrainian nationalists were imprisoned. The peasants were ordered to work the land for the invaders.

Tells of Brutality.

Tales of Nazi brutality came from many sources. One told of slaughter in Kiev, a city of about 600,000 people at the time of its conquest. "There the Germans requisitioned the best section of the city, moved for a few hours and settled down for a long stay," the story ran. "The section and entire city blocks were razed to the ground. The Germans set the outskirts to fire by camp. In retaliation, according to reports, the Ukrainians shot 240,000 inhabitants."

These same reports say that the Nazi army has shown it is a blood-thirsty and merciless, in dealing with conquered people. Entire villages have been blotted out in eastern Europe.

The Ukrainians themselves have tales about all this. They believe that the German actions are the result of certain general concepts that have been pointed out since Adolf Hitler assumed power in 1933. The chief of these concepts, say the Ukrainians, is that life is a struggle between races and that the only way to settle the score between hostile races is by extermination.

Soldiers' Mascot Given Lesson in White Liquor

FORT RICHMOND, ALASKA—Molly, the yearling Kenai cow, once adopted as a mascot by a company of soldiers here, apparently thought the outfit's cook had been quite uncomely careless when she spotted a large bucket of white liquor standing on the mess-hall steps.

Having been raised on milk, she unhesitatingly plunged her elongated snout into the bucket, and kept a wary eye on the mess-hall door.

The veterinary reports Molly will recover.

Coast Guard Enlists

WASHINGTON—The coast guard is going to have its cavalry. It announced today that it is seeking horsemen living near Atlantic and Gulf coast for a newly organized mounted beach patrol. Volunteers will be enrolled in the temporary reserve, instructed in their duties and provided with arms and uniforms.

The coast guard also is asking horse owners who can't join the patrol to make their mounts available to riders who can.

Dancer Exempted From War Duty by British

EDINBURGH—On condition that he continue his present occupation, Raymond O'Farrell, conscientious objector, today remains exempt from war service.

His job?—bullet dancer.

MR. LINDSEY HONORED ON BIRTHDAY—

Mr. Jordan Lindsey was honored at a delightful surprise birthday dinner party given by Mrs. Lindsey in the home on Tuesday evening, when guests included employees of his firm, their wives and a number of relatives.

The home was attractively decorated for the occasion with pot plants and cut flowers.

The delicious four course dinner was served in the dining room from a beautifully appointed table.

Games of dominoes and bingo furnished entertainment after the dinner hour.

Those invited for this delightful party were: Mr. Jordan Lindsey, the honoree; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Frank Ham and children, Mary Glenn, Betty Jo, Kimmy and James Franklin Ham; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank Prescott and daughter, Betty Jo; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ham, Miss Martha Ham, James Ham, Mr. and Mrs. James Wise and son, Jimmie, and Mrs. Jordan Lindsey, the hostess.

Mr. I. N. Heath returned to Elba Tuesday after visiting relatives in Mobile and Montgomery for several weeks. He has almost recovered from a severe and prolonged attack of rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tucker, of Dothan, visited relatives in Elba over the weekend. Mr. Tucker is employed at Napier Field.

Gardens To Play Important Part In 1943 War Effort

Alabama gardens will play an important part in our war effort in 1943. People have to be well fed for our diet should be vegetables.

If we are to have plenty of vegetables, fresh, canned and dried, they will have to be grown in Alabama. Every family, rural and urban, can and will help in the war effort this year by growing a garden. Growing a good all-year garden is a profitable practice even in normal times. Records show that a half-acre garden will produce on the average $150 worth of food.

There are several points that must be kept in mind in the growing of a good all-year garden. First, the soil must be fertile and contain plenty of humus. A fairly liberal application of fertilizers for a 100 ft. row would be 100 lbs. of manure or 12 lbs. of a 2-8-7 fertilizer applied in the row two weeks before time to plant. It is essential that good seed varieties that are adapted to local conditions be used. Seed have to be planted at the right depth. For example, beans and peas can be planted two to four inches deep, depending on the weather conditions. However, if beans, carrots or lettuce seed are planted more than a half inch deep they won't even get out of the ground.

After vegetables are up to a good stand give them shallow cultivation often enough to keep down weeds. Do not dig around your plants. Frigid to start the garden, grow off as they should, or in case they stop growing, your garden now!
